the best places

silver jewelry

These local spots focus on pieces in the cool-hued precious metal—which looks great with sun-kissed skin.

Tous

5015 Westheimer Rd., 713-840-0286, tous-shop.com. This intimate branch of the Spain-based jewelry chain debuted in Houston last year. Decidedly charming, the playful silver designs here (from $50) range from youthful, like the charm necklaces in the new Tous in Heaven line, to sophisticated finds like oversize cocktail rings.

STERLING SILVER BRACELET, $475, CHARDE, 713-668-6350

Charde

5600 Kirby Dr., Ste. S3, 713-668-6350. Owner Cliff Hybarger has been curating the selection at this gallery-like Kirby space—which features the work ($20 to $2,000) of 100 local and national artisans—for the past 21 years. Our current picks include Pitti e Sisi's bangles and earrings with etched, spun-sugar textures.

Tane

5058 Westheimer Rd., Ste. 8075, 713-623-8001, tanetexas.com. The Mexican company's newly opened first U.S. store elegantly displays the in-house designers' modern handmade creations ($100 to $3,000), including a stunning array of coiling serpentine rings, bracelets, and chokers.

High Gloss

1131-06 Uptown Park Blvd., 713-961-7868, highglosshouston.com.

Sisters Lisa and Kim Glosserman center their

Uptown store's inventory on contemporary works ($30 to $600), mixed in with a few vintage designs. We especially love the flora-and-fauna-inspired pendants by Michele Scholnick of Branch and Lauren Wolf's long, dangling earrings with edgy, stylized seahorse, leaf, and stingray motifs.
